The feud between Hulk Hogan and ex-wife Linda has escalated again after Linda was referred to as an "abusive alcoholic" in his new book.

"As far as what he has said about Linda, it's not accurate about her being involved with heavy alcohol and being abusive, and trying to hit Nick with a wine bottle? Absolutely false," attorney Ray Rafool stated.

"It's disappointing and it is irritating. We disagree and wish he would have stuck to the facts instead of sensationalism to sell his book. It does reheat a lot of stuff, but it makes her feel all the more happy that she's divorced and away from him. He's Jennifer's problem now."

"You can now understand the fear that Linda had when she was going through the divorce because she knows his personality, heard these rumors, knew what he was doing, and that's the reason why she was so concerned. We're thankful that at this point, he has straightened his life out," Rafool said.

A rep for Hulk says that he "stands by what is written in the book."
