Developer Sergio Pino, who died earlier this week during a raid of his home, was under investigation for allegedly trying to have his wife killed at least twice. Now, her lawyer says she's the sole owner of his real estate empire.

Tatiana Pino and her late husband appear in documents as the two sole managers and owners of Century Homebuilders Group, and since Sergio Pino was found dead (<https://www.bisnow.com/south-florida/news/commercial-real-estate/developer-sergio-pino-dead-by-apparent-suicide-amid-morning-swat-raid-125111>) Tuesday after an FBI (<https://www.bisnow.com/tags/fbi>) raid, Tatiana Pino is now the sole owner, her lawyer said.
