John Cena Files For Divorce!

5/10/2012 5:15 PM ET | Filed under: Legal Matters • Love Line • Hulk Hogan • John Cena

While it's true when people have said that "no happy marriage has ever ended in divorce," some marriages might need a little more work than others.

It's good to hear that a couple has given it a true shot, even if it doesn't end up working, as there WAS a reason they got married in the first place!

We're saddened to hear that John Cena has filed for divorce in Florida, but on the other hand: if they both aren't happy, moving on is for the best.

Liz has already hired high-powered Miami attorney Raymond Rafool to rep her, and yeah, you know that name! He's the same attorney who Linda Hogan used during her divorce.

We ALL know how that ended for Hulk! In this case, though, Liz apparently signed a prenup in 2009. It ain't pretty, either!

The word is that Liz was blindsided by this divorce, too, admitting to having had issues but never thought it would end. She has even refused to sign things so far.

If they can get past this, great, but if not... they need to realize that it's for the better, and making it messy won't help at all!
